Presley tells story of Southern Bell

While it took more than 45 years to get the first 745 telephone in Hancock County, the first 20 years were on the order of 6,233-better than 600 per cent.

The Hancock local growth in telephone and the improved economy were cited this week by D.H. Presley, Southern Bell manager for Bay St. Louis and Hancock County.

"Today," he said, "there are more than 7,000 phones in the county."

The first exchange for Hancock County was placed in service here Aug. 19, 1899, with 47 phones. By 1945, the number had grown to 765.

"In 1945, Hancock County had one telephone for every 15 people (population estimated), while today it averages approximately one telephone for every three or four people (population estimated). At the end of 1965, Bay St. Louis had 6,974 telephones and the Port of Spain exchange 284," Presley reported.

During 1965 alone, the County as a whole, showed an increase of more than 2,140 telephones or 40 per cent. Telephone exchange continues to increase. On an average, 10,000 local calls are placed daily by residents of Hancock County.

Since 1945, many service improvements have been made in Bay St. Louis and the county. These include modern dial service, toll free service to Port of Spain and other distant areas.

With the progress in Hancock County in the past 45 years, Presley said.

wardens representing the Mississippi Gulf Coast in the National Nursing Journal in an effort to secure more nurses in their area.

On the matter of Beat 5 Truett T. T. Robert, Jr., trustee used to retain Dr. Charles Letourneau, nationally known hospital consultant, at a cost of $800 to study and make a full report on complete reorganization of the hospital. Robert's motion accepted by his colleagues provided that Letourneau's findings will be made public through the press.

The consultant has indicated he will be here March 22-24, will hear testimony from those interested in appearing before him and probably will take the information back to his headquarters in Chicago, Ill., to compile his report.

The decision to retain Letourneau came after some two dozen citizens appeared at the meeting, presumably to present complaints or ask questions about the current hospital situation. Robert attempted to get the board to go into executive session, declaring that an out of town advisor could be here to listen to them. John C. Maufrey said he wanted to know what the group was presenting for and Joe K. Duckworth, board president, remarked he wished the public were interested enough to attend all trustee meetings.

While Mrs. T.P. Ward finally seconded Robert's motion, the matter was left hanging when it was agreed there would be no discussion back and forth. Logus contended the people were there in the interests of the hospital and the president could control the situation by recognizing them.

Two members of the board of supervisors—R.C. Hubbard, Jr. of Beat 5 and Dolph Kellar of Beat 2—sat in on the session. All supervisors had been invited in the hope they would concur that night in the hospital trustee's selection of Letourneau to undertake the study. The supervisors have said they would make their own investigation of the hospital in view of continuing conflicts there.

Words became pretty heated during the evening, especially when Hubbard refused to commit his fellow supervisors to concurring in Letourneau's selection.

Judge calls
for briefs

On Friday of last week, the federal court in the Hancock County reorganization suit and this morning, were directed by U.S. District Judge Harold Cox to file within 30 days their determination of their position.

As the same time, plaintiffs were asked to file a statement concerning action under state law to force by popular vote the reorganization of the action.

Teen Times

When... last week's bit adding for assistance bore fruit... and we must add that Jeannette Rutherford, a m.o. through even before publication... but today's mail had a nice lot of S.J.A. news... now all we're really looking are reporters from St. Stanislaus, Christ Episcopal, North Central (and we do miss John Nacole) and North Bay seventh and eighth grades.

Queen of just about everything around town, Dale Russell, made a lovely queen of hearts when crowned at the Youth Center last Saturday night. Dale won the Junior Miss and Livestock Queen contest by virtue of good looks and talent, but the heart she to earned by just plain hard work. She has had lots of practice as junior chairman of March of Dimes solicitations the past two years. Congratulations are also due runners-up Luanne McGeevich, Jeannette Harlock and Margie Parham. College planning time... Pili White and Millie Church are investigating MSCW, having visited the campus in Columbus last week.

Jeannette Green is really concentrating on her wardrobe for the six week educational tour of Europe now that she's officially been accepted as one of a number of Catholic high school students to leave the states for the continent in mid-June.

If it weren't for the fact that Claude Yorkborough, Jr. had to be hospitalized with pneumonia, we'd be listing him as the lucky young man of the week. The day he passed his driver's test, a new car, all his very own, was waiting for him in the driveway of his Nicholson Avenue home. But, to date, he's been too ill to take advantage of his new mode of transportation.

Chosen to compete in the National Catholic Business Examination in Jackson on March 24, are Donna Garriga, Charlene Benigno, and Susan Ryan from the bookkeeping department at St. Joseph, and from typing classes, Mary Ann Becker, Erin Heltzmann and Mary Lou Gurnard.

More who spent Carnival in City included Lulu Gudomar, Naomi Yano, Ann Le Breton, Pete Pelligrini, Pete Mondori, Charlie Brown and Wyatt Bowman.

And back to Mardi Gras again... Mary Ann Becker and Donna Garriga co-chaired a party at the Downtown. In addition to their escorts, Gene and John (West Point cadets), guests included Mickey Walker, Marilyn Mac Rannal, David Hewson, Brent Solzenthales, Phil Baker, Winston Manasco, and Sue and Mike Swanner. Get well wishes are on the way to Mike Retina. Mary Ann Becker and Barbara Crude-dan.

By this time we should know better than to feel jubilant over the fact that all of a sudden, it's spring, knowing full well that any gloom will just naturally bring on the first late March freeze in the history of local recorded weather. However, after far from the coldest, but far and away the wettest winter to date, we'd be ready to sing, could we even hum one malodorous tune, over initial peace buds, and already flowering bridal wreaths. The reborn are not too bright... they've been puffing out fat, factored, rosy cheeks for several weeks, flowers have just about the same mentality—but when a peacen ejects fresh blizzards, it's just as much a promise of warm weather as to the first coil of a whip-poor-will... nights may remain cool, but plan whatever you wish because there'll be no more frost until sometime next November.

Paddy's Day parade

We fear that we'll have to blame Joe Griffin for the rain which certainly put a damper on Waveland's third annual St. Patrick's Day celebration. In the official proclamation, everyone was invited but Jupiter Pluvius, and anyone who knows what happens when a rain god is offended! None-the-less, a great time was had by all and the usual workers worked life dogs on costumes, decorations, corned beef, etc.

Prize bands Debbie Poolson, Lorraine and Charlie's daughter, reigned in a lovely white gown designed and made by her grandmother, Charlotte (Mrs. Oswald Villere), Joe Donnovoy, and just how Irish can you get? made an imposing grand march, and city hall and dignitaries thereon were decked out in green green, green. It would be impossible to list all who participated, but a few were Lillian and Joe Griffin, Fran and Bob Lucas, Myrtle and Joe Donnovoy, Terri and Doc Bosch (although they were unable to take part fully, as they are still recovering from the very serious automobile accident last summer), Walter Hubbard, Bob Macdonald, Ovea Villiams and his Boy High School "A.G. 'Gambler' Gaudin, who was an added attraction, leading the band in his famous clown make-up, the National Guard, which furnished jeeps and drivers, Charlotte Villiere, who carried more than just the "parade" of course Mayor Garfield Lecher and city officials, who always go all out. And let's digress a bit and wish him a very happy birthday Saturday, Mar. 12, making it really a double celebration. Barty Younger, (Mrs. Gaudin) Rina and they Cathy, who were the gorgeously outfitted ladies and the rest of the horseback riders added much to the festivity, and the Green Dragons, Armand Sargan, Nick Butte, Harold Dean and Bert Jacques, were great in green and white. Dressed with quip and wit, Wallace Bourgeois was also dressed in his emerald and gold dress as he drove the queen's float. Jacques selected Nancy Davis first place in horseback rider dress, Norma Gaudin, best Myrtle and Doc Bosch's friend, (whose name we don't know), took the trophy for best costume. A grand crowd turned out for the corned beef and cabbage dinner, but many decided to watch home due to dreary rain. We'll have the usual profit, which goes to local scout troops, in next week's column.

Just a few names in and out of Waveland upon included Lecher and Joe Wynne, Jane and Bobbie Beauvieux, Kate and Grand Pave, Mont Oliver, Phil Pave, Billy Soland, Fonzie Pave (with Burtie being at home with flu), Marion and Wendy Davis, Lillian and Joe Jacob, Eddie Foyard, Bud Pave, and many more. F.E. Fawell, A. Diebold, T.J. Ferraro, Ove Scher, Jr., F.L. Dargatzis, George Holmann, Maura, Hamilton Schmidt, Margaret Gaudin, Jules A. Pappas, Jr., Jack and the Long, Barry and Bill Overall, Julia and Villere, Helen and Bill West, Charles and Walter Lolly, Julius Bosch, the Charles Gaudin, L.P. Gaudin, Jules Brama, "Uncle Bob" Sellar, J. W. Sella, Race and Herb Dickarry, the Lenny group, and others of the Green Dragons, Gaudin Sargan and many more. The parade was a great success, and it is hoped that the place on the previous years finding it vider to remain pretty much in one or two spots that were only wet, beverage-wise, due to such further trouble from J.P., the above mentioned day of protest.

Off to the races

All sport of things fans are heading for the Fairgrounds almost daily as the remaining days of this season's meet are under way. A group who at least came home with their shirts last week included Bill Boyden, field superintendent for Malden-Hopkins; Dan Murray, field engineer; Dan Bryon and Harry Pave.

Our Gaudin goes to Warden McWilliams whose name appeared in last week's column. We just hope this'll read the connection before joining Joe in Disneyland where he'll be doing his dead eye act performance.

Animal notes - help!

As much as we love all dogs, even we have reached a saturation point. In one day last week we counted 19 canines copping in our yard. The fact that it took about 30 minutes to clean up what remained of our Sunday paper was unsurprising but even more troubling was the fact that the dogs were not only eating the paper but also the garbage from an overfilled trash can. Once again we're forced to request that other neighborhood animals be placed or at least chained to a post instead of being loose. And if you must leave town, we can't stress enough to chain them. One lovely, affectionate little dog named Bob took this rope became caught under a tire in the playground and was killed by a truck. The Lenny group, who have the rope, can take the rope from her neck. It is hoped that in the days could have choked to death. In other words, from this promise to be a very active Waveland Council Club, some making plans at the initial meeting Friday night were Elaine Colson, Louise Lynch, Gerri

Miss Webre. Mr. Ross wed in Ohio

Miss Penelope Sue Webre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Webre of U.S. 20, became the bride of Jerome Ross and Ross of Reading, Ohio, in a double ring ceremony at 4 p.m. Saturday at Reading Baptist Church, Rev. E. O. Edwards was the officiating clergyman.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ross of Miami Beach, Fla.

Joseph R. Altman gave the bride in marriage. Mrs. Harold Patrick of Springdale, Ohio, was mother of honor and Joseph R. Altman of Reading was best man. James Casey of Covington, Ky., ushered.

A reception followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Patrick.

Mrs. Ross has returned briefly to Bay St. Louis and Mr. Ross will join her today. They will go later to Reading to make their home where he is associated with General Electric Co.

Francis Stewart vows said at Brookley chapel

Brookley Air Force Base Chapel in Mobile, Ala., was the scene of the wedding March 5 of Miss Peggy Jean Stewart and Ensign Paul James Francis, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Francis of Lufkin Drive, Waveland, Rev. David Teller of St. Mathew's Catholic Church was celebrant.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin A. Stewart of Mobile, was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Carol Ann Stewart was her closest maid of honor. Robert D. Groover of Lufkin, Pa., attended as best man.

Following a wedding luncheon at the Brookley Officers' Club, the couple left for a wedding trip to Panama City.

The bride was an honor graduate of Oak Harbor High in Oak Harbor, Wash. She is a secretary with Universal Adhesive

Co. in Mobile.

The groom is a graduate of Carnegie High in Berwyn, Pa., and holds a bachelor of science degree in marketing from Pennsylvania State University. He received his commission as Navy Officer Candidate School, Newport, R.I., and subsequently attended Navy Supply Corps School in Annapolis, Md. He is currently aboard the USS Arlington, presently being converted from the USS Salpon in Mobile.

The couple will live in Mobile until May, when the USS Arlington will be transferred to Long Beach, Calif.

CURTIS MATHERNE

Matherne named to USM squad

Spartan pitcher Curtis Matherne, of Bay St. Louis and former member of the St. Louis Cardinals, has earned a berth on the varsity baseball team of the University of Southern Mississippi.

Matherne, who graduated from St. Louis in 1965, was the only one of a group of freshmen in the team who made the team.

Couch Penn Taylor, who's team finished with a 15-4 record last year, lost two of his mound acts through graduation and has been working with a number of returning lineups and several new comers to fill the gap.

With a tough schedule ahead in this weekend Taylor said he plans to use young Matherne as a regular starter as soon as he gains a little experience in college baseball.

Curtis made the Rockaway line when he was in the ninth grade and pitched four consecutive years, winning the most valuable player award in 1962 and 1963, and the second most valuable player award in 1963. He pitched a no-hitter during his freshman year.

He lettered in football and basketball three years and baseball four, joining the varsity nine midway in his freshman year.

He pitched for the American Legion under coach Buddy Piro, played in the local college league, pitched in Little League competition and for a team in Gulfport.

Southern's season opens at 3 p.m. Friday with a home game against Nicholls State of Thibodaux, La., followed by a return engagement at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Monday and Tuesday at 3 p.m. the Southern will host the Ole Miss Rebels.

Batteries had not been announced at press time.

PRC drops big one to Forest Hill

Pearl River Central, the Gulf Coast Athletic Conference carry in the girls' division of the annual Tournament of Champions, the overall state basketball tournament at Jackson, came to Forest Hill's Rehoboth, 79-62, on Friday.

The north county girls are now the only undefeated high school team in the state with a 31-0 record, having beaten Bogus Chiles in the finals on Saturday.

The Blue Devils were played by the three St. Louis Cardinals, Sims and Sims. Carol Suddith pulled up an amazing 41 points, Sharon Sims 29 and Karen Sims 15 to account for all Forest Hill's scoring.

Pearl River, once Chiles A champ, was held down by a brilliant defense. Rita Jones, who bucketed 24 points, Margaret Kennedy 15 and Penny Sones 13 accounted for all PRC's scoring.

HUNT HEARING SET

The State Game and Fish Commission has advised the board of supervisors the request for an open season on deer south of U.S. 90 should be presented at the hearing in Jackson May 10 when dates for the 1966-67 hunting season will be considered.

Alter space contract fee basis

A supplemental agreement converting the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's contract signed with the Boeing Company has converted the Saturn V first stage contract from a fixed fee to an incentive fee contract.

The modification covers conversion of the first of three scheduled currently under the Boeing contract for the S-IC stage. Work under schedule one is being performed at NASA's Michoud Assembly Facility in New Orleans, Mississippi Test Facility, Hancock County and at Boeing's Wichita, Kan. facility.

Under schedule one, Boeing is responsible for the manufacture, assembly and testing of two S-IC ground test stages and eight flight stages in addition to supplying major components for two S-IC test stages and two flight stages assembled at Marshall Center.

Incentive fee contracts differ from fixed fee in that a contractor's fee is based largely on an evaluation of his performance, rather than on a fixed, negotiated sum.
